Teledyne Defense Electronics (TDE) Launches New Website Offering ‘One-Stop Shopping’ for Customers of 10+ Teledyne Business Units

Initial web launch features easy access to over 100 discrete product lines and eleven distinct Teledyne brand ‘microsites’ in a single, consolidated TDE website

RANCHO CORDOVA, CA – April 3, 2019 – Teledyne Defense Electronics \(TDE\), an innovative new Teledyne brand representing the combined capabilities of eleven Teledyne companies, unveiled a new website today that provides a ‘single source’ on the web for accessing its comprehensive high tech offerings for global markets.

Teledyne Defense Electronics employs over 2,000 people worldwide and serves as a joint supplier for numerous distinguished Teledyne brands. Each of those brands brings decades of engineering expertise and heritage in some of the most advanced technologies on the market today.

With well over 100 highly-engineered product lines and service offerings spanning defense, commercial and industrial markets, TDE targets the majority of its products and technologies towards the needs of Airborne, Electronic Warfare, Energetics, Missiles, Radar, Satellite Communications, Space, and the Test & Measurement markets. In terms of research and development, TDE invests most heavily in technologies related to RF/Microwave Systems, Contract Manufacturing, Microelectronics, Interconnects, Energetics, Space and Satcom offerings.

Visitors to the new Teledyne Defense Electronics website will find access to over 100 product lines by whichever method they choose: by market, by technology type, or by simple alphabetical listings.
